

Atlas Pressed Metals Environmental Policy

It is the intent of Atlas Pressed Metals to be recognized as a responsible business with a documented Environmental Management System (EMS) that supports the continual improvement of Environmental Health and Safety (EHS) practices for our employees, customers, vendors, and community.

Atlas Pressed Metals is committed to a system of continual improvement in the areas of environmental impact, regulatory compliance, and pollution control during the manufacturing process of component powdered metals parts.

Implementation of this policy is the responsibility of all Atlas employees. Our goal is to provide a facility with safe, healthy working conditions in an environmentally sound setting for present and future generations.
